

Marty Dickinson has been breaking the glass ceiling in Spokane for years. She has a unique ability see the big picture but even more importantly the land mines waiting along the path. Her business acumen and experience combined with her strategic thinking makes her a valuable resource for any organization, CEO or mid-level manager. With her tenacity and resourcefulness, she can solve any problem. Marty is my go-to person when I need a calm, self-confident mind to help me reason through a situation.

- Stephanie Curran, CVE, M.A., CEO, Spokane Public Facilities District